HISTORY AND MISSION

Pharm-Olam is an award-winning, mid-size global full-service contract research organization (CRO), founded in 1994, and over time, we have established a strong reputation of performing exceptionally in challenging international clinical trials. We share your mission in helping create a healthier world by delivering quality, quick-to-market clinical services for your development of life altering therapies.

You have a world-changing treatment.
It deserves world-class clinical research.

Helping Create a Healthier World.™ With You.

HIGHLIGHTS

Your clinical trials are critical stages of a major research and development investment and hold the promise of bringing relief, better health, a more effective therapy, or longer life to patients across the globe. Pharm-Olam understands the stakes for your company and the investment that rides on this next important phase in your quest for marketing or regulatory approval. We share your excitement and your commitment, and we have proudly assisted hundreds of pharmaceutical, biotechnology, and life science companies enroll patients and collect the data needed to successfully bring their discoveries to market. Pharm-Olam has an enviable record of supporting planned clinical trials around the globe.
