History and Mission

acromion GmbH is a German headquartered, privately-owned, full-service, clinical CRO.

Operating throughout Europe, we provide the full range of clinical research services for biotech, pharmaceutical, medical device and diagnostics companies. Founded in 2002, our company has a successful track record for almost two decades across all stages of clinical drug development, from First-in-Man to Post-Market.

Highlights

acromion is proud of contributing to early development projects in CAR-T cell therapies.

Our focus is in oncology and hemato-oncology, where we are managing investigative sites in 17 European countries.

We embrace challenging and complex trials and enjoy working with innovative and committed sponsors. acromion's team is dedicated to successfully completing its projects by adding value to every working step throughout the lifetime of each trial.
