History and Mission

kfgn | Site Operations & Services is a specialist, expert partner and experienced provider in clinical trial recruitment and execution. With our six outpatient research sites and specialized study teams we have established and continually built up a wealth of valuable experience in trial execution. Our structure gives us the flexibility and network we need to map a broad range of clinical trial indications. With our expertise, we can work fast, efficiently and to a high quality standard.

Highlights

kfgn offers you a full package of services covering study execution and study management. We coordinate projects centrally, thus ensuring the research site can focus on study execution. We take time for our patients: by creating an atmosphere of well-being we improve compliance and loyalty of our study participants. 93.5% of our patients would participate in another study at kfgn! Highest quality and study execution in compliance with all valid directives and legal regulations is a matter of course for us. This serves as the basis for guaranteeing and generating high data quality in every clinical study we handle. At the same time, we give top priority to safe participation in the study for patients and test subjects alike.
